

How staffing in your aged care facility will improve

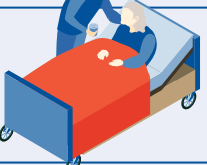

The aged care sector is set to benefit from significant reform. Through strong advocacy, NSWNMA members secured Federal Government commitments for mandated minimum staffing levels in aged care. Once legislated, all aged care facilities will have a minimum 215 care minutes per resident per day with 44 minutes provided by Registered Nurses.

Each facility will determine how to roster the 215 minutes of care per resident. This is an example of what the staffing arrangements could look like in your workplace.
